

Public Water Systems Drinking Water Awards - 2003

In The Main—Summer, 2003 By Marie Tennant

Twenty-nine public water suppliers were honored May 8 at the Massasoit Community College Conference Center in Brockton for excellence in providing consumers with high quality drinking water. The awards were presented at a breakfast event making the 2003 Massachusetts Drinking Water Awards Ceremony part of the National Drinking Water Week (May 4-10) celebrations. Meteorologist Bruce Schwoegler was the key note speaker who delivered an entertaining yet informative presentation on how accurate weather forecasting can help communities plan for everything from water conservation to snow removal.

Massachusetts' 768 community and non-transient non-community water systems participate in the awards program. Certificates were given to systems that have the best compliance records. Criteria include compliance with state and federal drinking water regulations in the areas of source protection, distribution programs, operator certification, emergency preparedness, and community outreach activities. The awards program acknowledges the challenges public water suppliers face in complying with the stringent Safe Drinking Water Act standards and the daily work of providing customers with safe, dependable drinking water.

The DEP wishes to extend gratitude to Carol Harris of Massachusetts Water Works Association, New England Water Works Association, Northeast Rural Water Association, Plymouth County Water Works Association, Barnstable County Water Utilities Association, and RCAP Solutions for the funding that made Drinking Water Day possible this year.
